

Additional Features...

Direct Deposit

Direct deposit, if available from your employer, allows you to automatically deposit your entire check, or the balance of your check after payroll deductions have been made, into any of your GECU accounts. Most commonly, they're deposited into your checking account. This process is easy and will save you time on payday. And, with direct deposit, you can also have any Social Security payments or tax returns deposited into your account automatically. You'll just need GECU's routing number (242076821) and your 12-digit member number.* For additional assistance, please contact us.

Overdraft Protection

Overdraft Protection provides a line of credit in case you overdraw your account. Rather than a draft being returned for insufficient funds, your line of credit would be accessed for the amount of the draft. You can pay off the overdraft right away or we'll take monthly payments automatically from your checking account. Visit our website, or contact us, for further details or to apply today.

*Your 12-digit account number is the Share ID + your member number with added zeros in between to equal 12-digits (The Share ID for GECU checking/share draft = 100, the Share ID for GECU share/savings = 000). For example, to determine your 12-digit checking account number: if your member number is 43210, your 12-digit account number would be your Share ID + your member number to get "100000043210." Please remember to add zeros after the Share ID and before your member number to make it 12-digits.
